

Expectations Stimulating Effective Effort Action Template

Zach Herrmann uses a combination of four actions to build confidence and willingness to persevere. They are:

- 1. Sticking with students who may be discouraged, confused, or nervous and returning to being struggling students
- 2. Giving credible encouragement
- 3. Teaching group members how to help each other
- 4. Structuring group interaction so that they do, in fact, help one another

After watching the video, take a minute to answer the following questions:

1. What strategies are you ready to try?
2. When?
3. How will you prepare?
4. What factors need to be in place so you'll be successful?
5. How will you know you have been successful?
